

Counting Characters

Problem Statement:

Write a program that reads a string and prints a count of each character in the string.

Input Specification:

A single line containing a string.

Output Specification:

Print each character and its count in the format character=count. Each character should appear only once in the output, in the order they appear in the input string.

Example Input:

hello

Example Output:

h=1

e=1

l=2

o=1